Post Graduate Diploma in Management (Agri-Business Management) – 2024-2026

Background

The policy of economic reforms has brought structural changes in the economy, which resulted in major shifts in the Indian agricultural scenario. The primacy of subsistence orientation is yielding place to commercialization, opening up vast opportunities for value addition, packaging and exports of agricultural products, with strikingly high levels of technology. The policies of globalization have taken Indian agriculture into the global village, opening up unprecedented opportunities as well as great challenges. These and other concomitant forces of change are placing significant demand for managerial skills in the Agri-business sector.

A Pioneer in Agri-business Management Education

With little focus on development of managerial skills in the undergraduate curriculum, the agricultural and other graduates find it difficult to function effectively as managers in Agri-Business firms, which have emerged as their most important employers. In response to this, MANAGE launched the PGDM (ABM) in 1996. The programme aims at enabling meritorious agricultural and other graduates acquire critical competencies to function as effective Agri-business managers. The excellent response from leading Indian and multinational Agri-business companies in placement of our students as management trainees, and their interest in assigning summer projects to them, fully validated launching of the programme. The programme is recognized by the All India Council for Technical Education (AICTE). On completion of the programme, successful candidates are awarded Post Graduate Diploma in Management (Agri-business Management).

Programme Management

The activities of PGDM (ABM) are guided by an Advisory Council chaired by Director General, MANAGE, and executed through various committees viz., academic committee, examination committee, appeal committee, anti-ragging committee and students' grievance committee.

Objectives

The practical relevance of the educational process in the programme is our prime concern. Continuous efforts are made to innovate, improve and enhance the curriculum of the course through consultation with academicians and executives of agribusiness companies. The specific objectives of the programme are:

- To develop adequate conceptual base in different subject areas of relevance.
- To acquire sufficient operating, analytical, problem solving and decision-making skills in using modern management tools and techniques in different functional areas through emphasis on cases that simulate real life situations.
- To develop application skills of management techniques appropriate in the unique context of Agri-Business.
- To develop a gestalt perspective of the Agri-business sector, its dynamics, complexities, challenges and opportunities in the emerging global context.
- To develop values, ethics and attitudes among the students which make them responsible and suitable for serving the business world as well as the farming community.

Summer Internship

The fourth trimester is designed to provide opportunities to students to apply their knowledge and skills in real-life work situation through summer projects with prominent Agri-Business companies. Reputed Agri-business companies visit MANAGE during October/November for selecting students for summer projects of 8–10 weeks duration. Most of the projects are focused on critical problems related to future business strategies of the companies.

Learning Events

The classroom inputs facilitate the development of theoretical concepts, knowledge, skills and managerial capabilities. To enrich the learning process, other academic activities and events such as short - term projects, assignments, interaction with noted experts and Agri-business executives, on subjects of relevance to the students, are organized. Certain other events like debates and elocution contests, management games, corporate and industrial visits are also organized.

Village Immersion Programme

In the 'Village Immersion Programme', the students stay in villages with farmers for a fortnight. This Programme provides the students an opportunity to understand the potential areas for development in agriculture as well as the constraints faced by the farmers. At the end of the study visit, a report is prepared on the status of agri-economy of the village, analysis of the constraints in agriculture and allied sectors, identifying opportunities for growth and formulating developmental strategies for that particular village.

Governing Rules and Procedures for PGDM (ABM) Students

Norms of Discipline

A high degree of responsible behavior and self-discipline are prerequisites for professional managers. The students are expected to uphold the ethical standards set by MANAGE in this respect.

Regular attendance in the class is a must. Loss of attendance beyond 15% in any course will lead to pro-rata reduction in marks on a base of 85. Thus, for instance, if a student with 78% attendance gets 69% marks in the exams, the result sheet will show $78/85 * 69 = 63.31\%$. However, cases of any prolonged illness requiring hospitalization can be considered on merits by the Director General on production of requisite proof.

A part from academic performance, each student will be evaluated on the basis of general code of conduct and behavior. Further, the institute reserves the right to monitor the behavior of each student and take necessary appropriate action as it deems fit including expelling the student from the programme.

The Programme is fully residential. Students should display dignified conduct towards faculty and staff, obtain permission of authorities for any overnight stay outside the campus and should maintain decorum in the matter of dress, both inside and outside the hostel.

In addition to the above, the following norms of discipline must be observed strictly by the students:

- Students going out of the campus should return to the campus latest by 10.15 pm. If required, students need to obtain permission from the Principal Coordinator.
- The boys and girls should not enter into each other's hostels for the reasons of privacy. The group work, common activities and any other academic discourse related to the Programme shall be carried out in the common room/classroom designated for such purposes.
- Hostel Manager is authorized to inspect students' rooms at any time to ensure that hostel rules are implemented in letter and spirit. Visits by outsiders to hostels also will be subject to hostel rules and regulations.

Assessment of Events and Award of Marks

The assessment of academic performance in different courses and field projects are done by respective course faculty/project guide. The maximum marks in each course will be 100 and evaluation will be in terms of absolute marks and percentages.

Typically, a course may have the following mode of assessment and allotment of marks-

Classroom participation / Attendance	– 05%
Project assignments / Term Papers	– 10%
Quizzes / Short Tests	– 15%
Mid-Term Examination	– 20%
Trimester-end / Course-end Examination	– 50%

However, MANAGE will have flexibility of altering the mode of evaluation after informing the students in advance. The minimum pass percentage in individual courses is 45%. However, the minimum aggregate percentage required for the award of the PG diploma is 50%. One should get 70% and above to get a first division and 85% and above to get a distinction.

A student who fails in a course or who fails to appear in the end-term examination is permitted to appear for the supplementary examination on payment of prescribed examination fee. The marks obtained in the supplementary examination will be scaled down by 10% while entering into the final marks sheet. The criteria for pass/fail will apply to the scaled-down marks too.

A student may be terminated from the PG programme if he/she fails in supplementary examination for more than two subjects in a year.

The Director General, MANAGE reserves the right to formulate appropriate guidelines and operational procedures from time to time for attendance, eligibility for appearing for the examinations etc.

Delayed Submission of Course Related Reports/ Assignments

All work related to a given course, including final examinations, must be completed within the term in which the course is offered. Delayed submission will entail penalties in terms of marks.

Summer Project

Summer project is a critical component of the Programme. It provides a unique and invaluable opportunity to learn the realities of agri-business management and to prove one's abilities as a management professional.

Soliciting Projects and Assigning Students

Securing and assigning summer projects is the responsibility of the institute and the decisions of management in this respect will be final. Students are encouraged to assist the management in establishing contacts with companies for this purpose, but such help will in no way entitle a student to necessarily secure a summer placement in the same company.

Stipends and other Financial Support

Expenditure pertaining to summer project work is the students' personal responsibility and MANAGE will not extend any financial support in this respect. However, many companies offer financial support to the students to carry out the project work though getting this support shall not be treated as a matter of right. Neither a student has right to decline a project nor his/her complaints/grievances will be entertained in this regard.

Confidentiality

Often companies assign students important projects, the outcome of which may significantly influence the management decisions; hence, the company may expect high degree of confidentiality and trust from the students. As a general norm, the students have to give a written undertaking to abide by the conditions stipulated by the company in this respect and also ensure that the report or any part thereof shall not be published in any form without the written permission of the Project Guide or the company.

Time Management

The students are expected to complete the Summer Project work, including making a presentation on the report and submission of the final copies to the company / guide and MANAGE, within the prescribed period. The following deadlines have to be adhered to in this respect.

- 1. The final report must be submitted within 10 weeks from the date of commencement of Summer Internship.
- 2. Delayed submission of the final report will lead to a penalty of 10% in the marks allotted for Summer Project.
- 3. The reports will have to be submitted through the PGDM (ABM) office.

Assessment of Summer Projects

Summer projects will also be assessed by the employing company on different aspects like quality of work, presentation of report, clarity and use fulness of the study, punctuality, commitment etc.

As mentioned above, the quality of the summer projects and the behaviour of the students have a significant effect on the image of the PG Programme among the agri-business companies. It is, therefore, of utmost importance for the students to produce their best in terms of competence, discipline and decorum. Transgressions of the guidelines and behavioural improprieties will, therefore, be very seriously viewed, and if established, attract severe penalties which may lead to expulsion from the Programme.

With holding of Results and Payment of Fee

Notwithstanding the fulfillment of the conditions for award of the diploma, the result of a student will be with held and no certificate or transcript of marks will be issued unless the student clears all the dues towards tuition fee and / or board and lodging charges.

The payment of all fees as per the schedule given in the Prospectus must be adhered to. Non-compliance in this matter will attract 5% penalties on the fee dues within 15 days and 10% up to 30 days. The management will decide the additional penalty for any further delay.

Malpractices in the examinations

It is of utmost importance to maintain sanctity of all examinations. Severe penalty will be awarded to students found guilty of any kind of malpractice during any examination. The following penalties will be imposed if the students are found guilty of any malpractice during any examination.

- 1. Scaling down the percentage of marks obtained in the course by 20%
- 2. Repeating the course
- 3. Rustication from the Programme

Similarly, stringent punishment will be imposed if plagiarism is detected with respect to assignments and project reports.

Use of Cell Phone

Use of Cell Phone is strictly prohibited both in the Classroom and Examination Hall. However, laptops may be allowed with the permission of the Professor. First time violation of this clause will attract a penalty of Rs.300/- and subsequent violation will attract higher penalties.

Prevention of Ragging

Ragging in any form is strictly prohibited and drastic punishment would be imposed on those found guilty. This would include rustication from the PG Programme. The AICTE directives in this regard will be followed. It is clarified that any attempt by a senior student or a group of senior students to deprive the juniors of their normal style of living by using physical or psychological coercion shall also fall within the definition of ragging.

Any decision regarding the governance and conduct of PGDM (ABM) and not covered above will be solely at the discretion of the Management.
