GADVASU

Guru Angad Dev Veterinary and Animal Sciences University (GADVASU), Ludhiana, is a State University established by the Government of Punjab in 2005 and became functional on 21 April 2006. Headquartered in Ludhiana, Punjab, the University is dedicated to education, research, extension, and technology transfer in veterinary, animal, dairy, fisheries, and allied sciences. Accredited by the Indian Council of Agricultural Research (ICAR) with an 'A' grade, GADVASU promotes sustainable livestock and fisheries development, food security, and rural livelihoods through innovation and need-based technologies.

The College of Fisheries (COF), Ludhiana, a constituent college of GADVASU, was established in 2008 to develop skilled human resources for the fisheries sector. The ICAR-accredited College is committed to excellence in fisheries education, research, and extension, with a special focus on inland aquaculture, aquatic resource management, fish processing, and entrepreneurship development. Through modern infrastructure, research, and technology dissemination, the College contributes significantly to sustainable fisheries development and India's Blue Economy. (<https://www.gadvasu.in/>)

Objectives

To impart quality education for developing professionally qualified and technically skilled human resources for the fisheries sector.

02.

To undertake basic, applied, and adaptive research for developing advanced technologies that enhance fish production and productivity from both culture and capture fisheries.

03.

To transfer fisheries technologies to stakeholders through awareness programmes, demonstrations, training, capacity building, skill development, and technical consultancy.

04.

To provide technical support and outreach services for the sustainable development of the fisheries sector by promoting scientific aquaculture practices and entrepreneurship.

About the Program

The Fisheries-StartUp and Aquapreneurship Stakeholders Meet aims to bring together all key stakeholders of India's fisheries and aquaculture ecosystem on a single collaborative platform and bridge the information gap, by facilitating a seamless exchange of knowledge, resources, and partnership opportunities among them.

The program aims to strengthen the fisheries entrepreneurship landscape by fostering innovation, collaboration, and value-chain integration. It provides startups with opportunities to showcase innovations, connect with partners and learn from successful ventures. By facilitating dialogue and partnerships, the program seeks to build an inclusive ecosystem that accelerates sustainable growth, technological adoption, and blue economy development.
