77th Independence Day Celebrations at MANAGE

DECCAN NEWS SERVICE
■ HYDERABAD

Dr. P.Chandra Shekara, Director General, National Institute of Agricultural Extension Management (MANAGE) hoisted the National Tri-color Flag and wished a very Happy Independence Day to all MANAGE Family members, students, international trainees of ITEC program, nodal officers of partner institutes. In his address, he remembered the sacrifice of great leaders for the independence, praised the hard work of farmers, scientists and extension workers who secured food security and sovereignty of independent India. He invoked Mahatma Gandhi's talisman "Be the change you wish to see in the world" – an inspiring call to all. Further, he stressed the need to make agriculture profitable and create jobs for rural youth through schemes like Agri Clinics and Agri-Business Centers; integrate trained Input Dealers of DEASI in extension; and develop skills among youth for harnessing the benefits of secondary agriculture. He quoted that "we need Healthy Agriculture and Wealthy Agriculture" for prosperity and welfare of farmers in the country.

He greeted the retired soldiers, who are special attraction in the Independence Day Celebration, undergoing a 4-month Jai Jawan Kisan training program, which aims to transform ex-servicemen into agripreneurs, at MANAGE for their important role in bringing discipline in agriculture. Dr. P. Chandra Shekara informed the increasing role of MANAGE in implementing new programs of Govt. of India – Agriculture Infrastructure Fund, Digital Agriculture, Impact Studies of flagship schemes and greater involvement of MANAGE in providing policy support and capacity development for more than 3500 Agricultural Extension Officers of Depts. of Agriculture and Horticulture, Govt. of Odisha and agri input and supply chain research studies in states like Assam, Himachal Pradesh etc.

MANAGE also honoured 6 faculty and staff members for successfully completing 25 years of their service. Additionally, 16 awards were presented to the best consultants, NTIs, and Nodal Officers of the month under the ACABC scheme. Also, Awards were presented SAMETIs – SIAET, Bhopal, VANAMATI, Nagpur; and BAMETI, Patna for their significant achievement in training Input Dealers through DAESI program. On this occasion, a book on "Shashwat Sheti Vikas Pratishthan- Success Stories of 60 Agripreneurs" was released. Cultural programs were also presented by PGD (ABM) students during the event
