FOREWORD

The new stakeholders in agricultural development such as Farmers Producer Companies, Agripreneurs, Input Dealers, Agri Startups, Agri-Business Companies, Banks, NGOs, Ex-Servicemen, Corporate Sector, Media, Software Companies etc., require new training and capacity needs to excel in their professions. The increasing importance of value chain extension, ecosystem services, climate-smart agriculture, nutri-sensitive agriculture, natural farming, urban agriculture, solar farming, nano technology, carbon credits, application of Artificial Intelligence, Virtual Reality, Internet of Things, Blockchain Technologies, Remote Sensing, Drones in Agriculture etc., has also opened up new frontiers in agricultural extension management.

The emphasis on Secondary Agriculture activities such as food processing, value addition, packaging, warehousing, supply chains, agri waste management and other innovative enterprises viz., agri-tourism, agri media, beekeeping, backyard poultry, dairying, sheep / goat rearing, agro forestry, bio-pesticides, bio-fertilizers etc., which focus on income generation for smallholders have also enlarged the scope of agricultural extension to enhance technical capabilities for providing better extension and advisory services to farmers.

In this dynamic and ever-changing landscape of agriculture, the role of Agricultural Extension Professionals and other new stakeholders is very critical in facilitating knowledge transfer, fostering innovations, and empowering farming communities to adapt to emerging challenges and opportunities. MANAGE believes that there is a great need to improve capacities of Agricultural Extension Professionals and new stakeholders in order to equip them to provide effective extension services to farmers.

In order to assess the training and capacity needs of Agricultural Extension Professionals, MANAGE has followed a participatory and consultative process by involving all the stakeholders. MANAGE organised the Annual Training Planning Workshop-2024 in January 2024 involving Ministry of Agriculture and Farmers Welfare, Govt. of India, State Departments, SAMETIs, EEs, Department of Extension from State Agricultural Universities (SAUs) and MANAGE faculty members to know the training needs of Agricultural Extension Professionals.

This exercise helped to identify training priorities of the on-going national missions like Natural Farming, Beekeeping and Honey, FPOs, Agri Startups, Agriculture Infrastructure Fund, VISTAAR Project, application of AI, IoT, Blockchain Technology, Drones in agriculture, and align training priorities suggested in the Annual Capacity Building Plan for Agriculture Sector by the Capacity Building Commission, Govt. of India and included them as training topics in MANAGE Training Calendar 2024-25 for approval of the Academic Committee of MANAGE. After a thorough deliberations, the Academic Committee of MANAGE in its 28th Meeting held on 28th February 2024 approved 441 training programs for the year 2024-25.

I am happy to share the MANAGE Training Calendar 2024-25 which proposes a total of 441 programs that included training programs (on-campus, off-campus and collaborative online programs), online programs, workshops, seminars, conferences and webinars that address the training and capacity needs of Agricultural Extension Professionals in the country.

I am glad to inform that for the year 2024-25, MANAGE established partnerships with the 30 Indian Council of Agricultural Research (ICAR) Institutions, 25 State Agricultural Universities (SAUs), 4 Extension Educational Institutions (EIs) and 19 State Agricultural Management, Extension Training Institutions (SAMETIs) and 7 Partner Organizations who signed MoU with MANAGE, 12 MANAGE Facilitators and 3 Other Organizations to organize 196 Online Collaborative Training Programs on emerging technical themes which are of importance to Agricultural Extension Professionals.

I am sure that MANAGE Training Calendar 2024-25 would help State Government Departments, ICAR Institutions, SAUs, KVKs, SAMETIs, EIs, Farmers' Producer Companies, NGOs and Private Sector to nominate their officers, scientists, extension functionaries, faculty members, administrators, project managers and researchers to participate in suitable training programs, workshops, conferences, webinars and seminars in order to develop their capacities and skills to deliver extension services to farmers effectively. I hope it will also help Farmers, Agripreneurs, Input Dealers, Agri Startups, Ex-Servicemen, Agricultural Students, Scholars and anyone who is interested to participate in the MANAGE online training programs and webinars to improve their knowledge and understanding on the latest things in agriculture.
